Baroda, Michigan

Field of Peonies

Announcement

We have been growing and shipping Nursery Stock for twenty-five years and have been growing fruit to ship to Chicago market for over thirty years. We have about sixty acres planted to fruit at present and know what are the best varieties for sale and home use. We have a large stock of fruit trees, plants, vines and ornamental stock which is large, thrifty and well rooted. They will please you.

We have put the prices in this price-list very low. We are not placing a lot of money in large, fancy catalogs and a lot of advertising, but are giving our customers the benefit by selling our stock more reasonable, realizing that a satisfied customer is our best advertiser. We are in the fruit belt and have a large home trade among the farmers who drive in and get their stock, saving us baling and boxing. We thoroughly understand packing Nursery stock and guarantee it to arrive in good condition by parcel post or by express and that it will be fully up to grade and true to name.

References—Commercial Bank, Baroda, Michigan. Commercial National Bank, St. Joseph, Michigan, or any business man in Baroda or St. Joseph.

Guarantee—All our stock is true to name and carefully labeled; yet while we use the greatest care to do this, we will not be held responsible for any sum greater than the cost of the stock, should any prove otherwise than as represented. We warrant our stock to reach customers in good condition, if sent by mail or express.

Terms—One-fourth cash with order, balance before stock is shipped. Or will ship C. O. D., if one-half of the amount accompanies the order and purchaser will agree to pay return charges on the money.

Remittances—May be made either by New York or Chicago Draft, post-office or express order, or where none of these may be had, by registered letter.

Claims—If any, should be brought to our attention immediately after receipt of goods for correction. Complaints offered after the goods have been in the hands of purchasers ten days cannot be entertained.

Prices—These prices are as low as we can afford to sell except to the home trade which drives in after their stock, saving packing and boxing. This trade we sell at the lowest price quoted regardless of amount taken. Six at dozen; 50 at hundred, and 250 at thousand.

All orders have our prompt and personal attention and to those not acquainted with us we would be glad to have a trial order; we guarantee you satisfaction.

Delicious—A fine winter apple, a relatively new apple from the West, where it is largely planted in the large commercial orchards of Oregon and Washington. The fruit is large, of a brilliant, dark red, with fine-grained, juicy, crisp and melting flesh, which has a delightful perfume. The tree is very hardy and vigorous, bearing heavy crops every year. A most desirable market apple and always commands the highest prices when packed for fancy trade.

STANDARD PEARS

Pears should always be picked ten days before they are ripe and laid away in a cool place. They need care and attention when they will respond most liberally. The range of varieties is such that they can be had in good eating condition from August until mid-winter.

PEACHES

The peach requires a well drained soil, a warm, sandy or gravelly loam is well suited to preserve a healthy growth, and should be fertilized and kept in cultivation. Ashes, potash, and bone are excellent fertilizers, though the tree will respond excellently to any fair dressing material. Each year's growth should be shortened after the wood is ripe, to make the tree stronger, better shape and more vigorous. In trimming trees to plant use a sharp knife, cut all bruised roots off, making a clean cut. Trim side limbs off three inches from tree; cut tree off about three feet from the bud or ground according to the height you like.

STRAWBERRIES

Aroma (Per.)—This is one of the best and most profitable late strawberries. Fruit very large, glossy red of excellent quality and productive. Season same as Gandy.

Charles I. (Per.)—Early large and very productive holding it's size much better than most varieties. The most profitable berry we had fruiting last season for us. Good fertilizer for early pistillate varieties.

Pocomoke (Per.)—The berry is round, conical and resembles the old Wilson, but is much larger and one of the best varieties in existence not only for its enormous productiveness, but on account of its beauty. Adapted to all soils. Its large size, deep red color, firmness and high flavor make it one of the most profitable shippers.

Sample (Imp.)—One of the very best berries and it seems to succeed everywhere. Plants strong, large and healthy, producing in profusion large, dark colored berries, of uniform size and color. Firm enough to ship well, one of the best standard sorts for home use and market. Season late.

Warfield (Imp.)—It is early, firm, good flavor, productive, same season as Dunlap which makes a good fertilizer to plant with it.

Wm. Belt (Per.)—Large, productive and of fine quality. One of the best to fertilize for late pistillate varieties.

Dunlap (Per.)—The standard variety. Too well known for description.

EVERBEARING VARIETIES

Americus (Per.)—A seedling of Pan American crossed with Louis Gauthier, originated by Harlow Rockhill of Iowa. The plants are good growers when given good care and plenty of fertilizer. They are just about such plant producers as the old Bubach strawberry. The foliage is a light glossy green and very healthy. It bears a fine crop of fruit the year the plants are set out (August, September and October) and also a nice crop the next Spring and the following fall. The crop in the fall of the first year does not discolor the roots or impair the plants for fruiting the next spring. The berries are medium to large in size, regular shaped, light glossy red and very beautiful. It is of the very finest flavor. A shortcake made from Americus in August or September is a dish fit for a king. The crop in June is even finer than the fall crop.

We have fruited this variety two seasons. It is a splendid berry and does best of any on our farm.

Superb (Per.)—The plants of the Superb are almost ideal growers. The berries are large dark red, glossy and the most beautiful of all the Fall bearing varieties.

Progressive (Per.)—The most vigorous growing plant of all the fall bearing strawberries. The plants and fruit both closely resemble Dunlap. The berries are produced in abundance and are of fair flavor. We advise clipping off the fruit stems or blossoms of the Fall bearing varieties for the first season until the middle of July.

THE NEW WINFIELD RASPBERRY

After nine years of testing, experienced berry growers place it first among American Blackcaps.

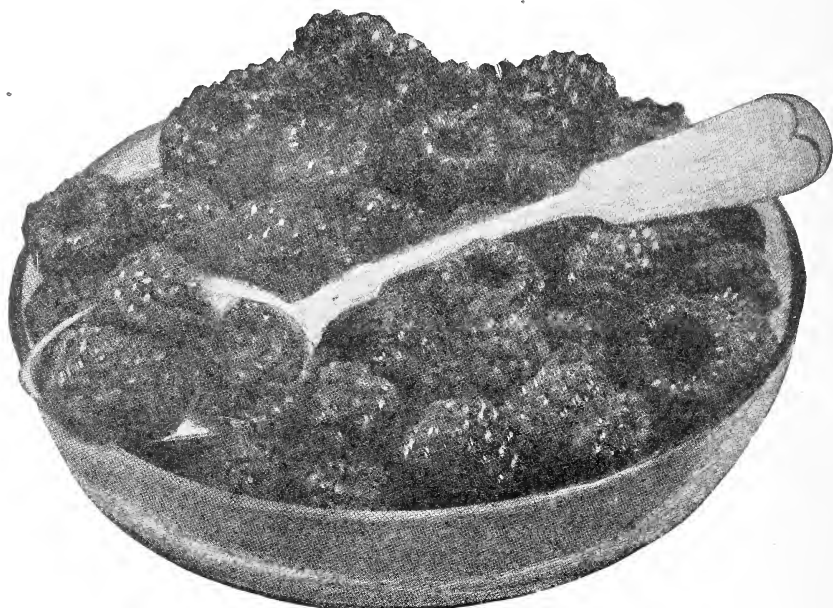

This grand, new Raspberry originated at Winfield, Kansas, and after nine years of testing has proven itself the "King of Blackcaps." In hardiness and productiveness it is unexcelled by any other variety. Has never winter killed through thirteen years of fruiting and stands extreme drought. The fruit is of enormous size, single berries often covering a quarter. Four to six great clusters are produced on each cane, averaging from three to six quarts to the plant. Fruit is firm, sweet, rich and juicy, seeds small, fine flavor.

Bush is healthy and very vigorous, making robust stocky canes, easily supporting their heavy loads. Not troubled with rust or anthracnose. Ripens ten days earlier than Kansas and continues until Kansas is gone. Succeeds on all soils. Its firmness and size make it unexcelled for market. Easily sells for 50c to $1.00 more a crate than other raspberries. Brings higher prices than any other fruit; is easily grown. Bears quick, never misses a crop.

Herbert —Very hardy standing a lower temperature than most varieties. Strong, vigorous grower, fruit bright red, larger than Cuthbert, flavor sweet and juicy. The very best for table use, enormously productive	.30	1.50
King —Pronounced the best early red raspberry by many of the leading horticulturists. Plant a strong grower, very hardy and productive. Berry is firm, a good shipper; large size; beautiful bright scarlet color; ripens with the earliest. Prof. W. J. Green, of Ohio Exp. Station says: King has proved the best early red raspberry. It is large, bright red, quite firm and of good quality	.20	.80	7.00

Royal Purple Raspberry

In 5,000 lots we will supply at $30.00.

St. Regis—Fruit commences to ripen with the earliest and continues on young canes until October. Berries bright crimson, large size, rich, sugary, fleshy, firm and meaty, a good shipper. Productive, the first or main crop equals any other variety -----

.30	1.50
Doz.	100

Perfection—The strongest grower among the red raspberries, making canes 10 ft. or more in height, which are perfectly smooth. The berries are bright red, very large in size and produced in clusters. The vines are immensely productive and continue in bearing a long time. They are thoroughly hardy, having stood a temperature of 20 degrees below zero without injury-----

$0.25	$1.00
--------	--------

Royal Purple—A new purple variety, resembling but claimed to be better in every respect than the Columbian or Haymaker. One of the largest. The greatest bearer of any; of fine flavor. Plant hardy as an Oak; a strong grower. Recommended by the introducer as the greatest money making raspberry on earth, we have fruited this berry and find them very productive, a good table or canning berry but not a profitable berry for market -----

THE McDONALD DEWBERRY-BLACKBERRY

A new berry differing in characteristics from all other standard kinds. A new Creation, distinct, unique, excelling all its family. Possessing all the qualities of a perfect market berry—earliness, size, firmness, beauty. A great moneymaker; it commands the market; has no rival in its season; brings the highest price; those who grow it first will reap great profits.

DESCRIPTION

Extra Earliness.—It is the first to bloom and the first to ripen of all cultivated varieties. Only the wild dewberry approaches it here. It is a week earlier than our old standard of earliness, the Early Harvest; so early that no other sort blooms early enough to pollinize the first blossoms that appear.

Size.—Largest in fruit. In this respect it equals the cultivated dewberry and many specimens can be found that exceeds the largest dewberry. In appearance and quality it is a true dewberry and passes for that on the market; therefore it commands the top prices that the first prime dewberries sell at.

Most Productive.—The immense productiveness of the McDonald cannot be realized without a sight of the vines in fruitage. The sides of the tall rows are a mass of shining black, a marvelous picture of nature's prodigality. Nothing surpasses it in this quality. Only its tremendous vigor of growth enables it to ripen such a wealth of large berries.

Habits of Growth.—The first year the vines crawl on the ground; the second, strong canes grow erect to a height of five feet on rich soil and then curve over. Late in the summer these main canes send out great numbers of long, slender laterals that form a green wall on which the berries form.

Hardy.—During the ten years the McDonald has grown here, 130 miles south of St. Louis, it has never winter killed even at a temperature of 14 below zero.

Rust-Proof.—No rust has ever been reported on the McDonald. Its dewberry blood renders it immune to this greatest enemy of the blackberry.

Pollination.—The McDonald is a pistillate and must be planted with other varieties that bloom at the same time. The tame dewberry or Early Harvest blackberry will answer this purpose.
